

Zero-days exploited. Three Microsoft Defender vulnerabilities are being actively exploited by threat actors to gain elevated privileges. Novel obfuscation is likely in play. They're evading traditional SIEM detection. Two remain unpatched. Our team is racing to assess client impact. Identifying IOCs and TTPs is a priority. Threat actors will use these exploits for lateral movement and persistence. Patching now or waiting? #MicrosoftDefender