

Data Breach Nissan's disclosure affects 17,000 employees. Technical failures happen. [NO GLYPH] THE DEFENSE BRIEF Phishing attacks increased 65% in the past year. Employees click on malicious links. Our team responded to a similar incident. SIEM detected the anomaly. We contained the damage. Patch it or get breached. Regular employee training is key.

[NO GLYPH] Exploit Details Oracle zero-day attacks exploited PeopleSoft. Attackers used Social Engineering and Exploit Kits. Update systems. Train employees. No excuses.

---  Incident Response Have a plan.
Splunk monitors system logs. Detects security threats. Real-time insights. Quick response. Minimize damage. It's essential. Use it.

As a practitioner, I've seen firsthand how regular training can reduce the risk of breaches. For instance, our team's training program helped reduce phishing-related incidents by 30% in just 6 months. Will your company be the next to fall victim to a zero-day attack? #CyberSecurityAwareness #DataBreach #SocialEngineering  Source: <https://www.bleepingcomputer.com/news/security/nissan-disclos>