

Cybersecurity fails. 12 minutes to exfiltration.
No time. The Hacker News says every major breach starts with one email. Hackers are ahead.

Our team works on Vulnerability Assessment & Penetration Testing. They use Zero-Logon exploitation. People are the problem. Not tech. AI makes phishing emails convincing. 100% success rate in some cases.

I saw a Patient Zero demo. One click shuts down a system. Incident Response and Threat Intelligence matter. 60% of organizations lack a plan. As a practitioner, I've worked with teams that have successfully implemented Vulnerability Assessment & Penetration Testing, and seen firsthand the impact it can have on preventing breaches. For example, one team I worked with was able to identify and patch a critical vulnerability before it could be exploited, saving the company from a potentially
