

Microsoft Defender is under attack. Three recently disclosed vulnerabilities are being exploited to gain elevated privileges. Two remain unpatched. No fix. We're stuck with a 'patch and pray' approach that's no longer tenable. Shift left. Integrate security into DevOps pipelines. Catch flaws before production. Novel obfuscation technique likely in play. Evading traditional detection. DFIR in your DevSecOps workflow? Disagree? Prove me wrong. #MicrosoftDefender